

TERENCE JANSEN VAN VUUREN

(Nick Carraway)

Director, Terenzo Hairdressing International

Why do you do what you do?

Hairdressing is one of the most unbelievable platforms, offering me the opportunity of fully expressing my creativity. It's part of my DNA.

How do 20s hairstyles compare to today's?

Hairstyles today definitely tend to be more stylish and simpler, which makes styling techniques quicker and easier for the consumer. If we look at the 1920s and even other periods, there was a very specific style, like the iconic bob and finger waves of the 20s. Today each individual's look is more custom-made.

What do you think about future hair trends?

Looking at the future of hair trends, one can easily make the mistake of thinking it has all been done. There is always a new design or texture with new colour combinations, which can offer a brand-new look.

What do you look forward to?

My overseas trips. Experiencing different cultures is inspiring. I'm very excited about my next overseas trip to India with Delhi and Mumbai on the pit-stop list. I'm very privileged to travel frequently; it gives me the opportunity of seeing different countries and sharing my skills, knowledge and creativity with the rest of the world.

The perfect cup of coffee?

I have to admit that I'm a coffee snob. It's thrilling to see how specialised the coffee industry has become in South Africa. The perfect cup of coffee is the only good way to start your day.

Best of Joburg?

Arts on Main in the Maboneng Precinct on a Sunday morning is food for the soul. The art, the food, the textures, the people, the energy — there's such a creative vibe in the air and I absolutely love it.

What are your other passions?

Kiteboarding, horse-riding, surfing, cycling and preparing food, the latter while sipping on a glass of merlot.

How would you sum up the cover shoot in one word?

Exquisite!

Jacket and shirt: Suzaan Heyns